School District #35 Beautification group is a program for and by the residents of the Rogue River School District and comprises of a membership of both adults and youths working together.

The purpose of this organization is to beautify the area, help preserve our heritgage from mother nature, to save pioneer sites and to complete new projects each year which will enhance the environment.

Examples of projects we have worked on include: 1) We help maintain Woodville Cemetery, oldest cemetery this part of Oregon in continuous use. Soldiers who were killed in our last battle with the Rogue Indians (8-24-1953) on Battle Mountain are buried here.

2) We established Wimer's first public drinking fountain and its first public restrooms in a park by the Covered Bridge. 3) Each year we sponsor beautification contests for our community to get home owners interested in esthetically improving their own properties, particularly in places where the public may view them. Together with the local V.F.W. Post, we have awarded over 60 United States flags (which have flown over our nation's capital) as prizes.

School District #35 Beautification group's first project was on the Southern Pacific Railroad property in Rogue River in 1962. On October 10, 1980 we formed a non-profit corporation covering all of School District #35. We solicit participation from everyone in the area, including citizens, organizations, business establishments, Jackson County Departments, Southern Pacific Railroad, state, national and county forest departments.

We try to maintain past projects and to add new ones each year. In 1984 we gave to the community a six foot tall Port Orford cedar statue of a crowing rooster which was placed at the entrance to the city of Rogue River (Rogue River is the site for the National Rooster Crowing Contest). This year juveniles from Jackson County Sheriff's Department are forming a rustic railing around Wimer Covered Bridge recreation.

All projects are funded by donations of money, materials, and labor, and completed by volunteers.
